One of Atlanta's most storied and oldest institutions, the Capital City Club traces its origins back to 1883. The Crabapple golf course is a Tom Fazio design located on the county line between Cherokee and Fulton Counties. The 7,137-yard, par-72 layout is located along the Little River.

The Capital City Club has a rich tradition of hosting golf championships. Bobby Jones, at age 14, won the first Georgia State Amateur Championship in 1916 at the Club's Brookhaven Course. Byron Nelson won the 1945 Atlanta Open there as the fourth of his 11 consecutive victories that year. In addition, Louise Suggs, an honorary member of the Capital City Club, won both the 1947 and 1953 Women's Western Amateur Championships at Capital City Brookhaven. In 2003, Capital City Crabapple hosted the American Express World Golf Championship which Tiger Woods ultimately won. Directions will be emailed after registration.
